Sermon Scripture: Psalms 27:4 – 6 (GNT)

Message Title: A Radical Response!

Current Context:

- The Psalms are great d_____ about the frequent t_____ of life. They take us from p_____ to a point of p_____ and a_____.
 - Move us from t_____ to t_____
 - Move us from t_____ to t_____
 - Move us from f_____ to f_____
 - Move us from b_____ to f_____
- This Psalm, 27, in many ways mirrors the themes of h_____ 27 in the Baptist Hymnal, B_____ A_____.
- It is a r_____ proposition to face a_____ and fear and sing to yourself, “The Lord is my light and My S_____. . . I don’t have to be a_____!”
- David suggests, though, that sometimes it is h_____ to look like you have joy!
- The joy David describes means to let out a s_____, or a b_____ cry, the kind that happens when a k_____ shows up!
- There is no better m_____ to share with the world today, than the one that lets folks know through your c_____ and stride that the King, God, is still in control!
- You have to be radical enough to act like you know that God is still in c_____!

Relevant Question(s):

- Why can I have a radical faith response that says, “I have nothing to fear”?

Sermon Observations:

1. You can be radical because c_____ call forth the c_____ of God!
2. God’s covering should cause some c_____ c_____ from you!
3. Your communication with God should lead to c_____!

Calvary Connection:

- Ice Cream Truck Music
- The Bible says that God sent in Jesus... what a r_____ r_____! And He came to give you l_____; He came to give you j_____; He came to give you h_____! He d_____ didn’t He die! He s_____ there all night Friday; stayed there all Saturday m_____; but early on Sunday morning, He got up with all p_____!

Personal Reflection:

- Reflect on all of the ways that God has covered you during your crisis moments and seasons.
